

"Oh you are the one who was supposed to fly with the ingredient of the medicine. I've heard a lot about you from other doctors, and from King Pedro. We were worried that you would not come to us anymore. Now we can have vaccines against this virus for everyone."

Hearing this, the stork was very happy that he could save everyone. Then, the doctors together with the scientists began to work hard to produce the vaccine and to ship it around the world. After two days of work, there were over 6 billion vaccinations ready. King Pedro, hearing this fact, decided to erect a huge monument for the stork in front of his castle. He also decided to build a great stork house on the Praia de Carcavelos Beach. Hearing this fact, the stork couldn't wait to share the news with his friends whom he met along the way. King Pedro couldn't wait to get back to normal life. Doctors started treating people, children and seniors. About half of the Portuguese population had already been vaccinated in one month. After 2 months of vaccination, everyone in Portugal was vaccinated. All over the world more and more people were deciding upon being vaccinated. During that time, a monument of the Stork and his house had already been built. After a while, when King Pedro announced, everything was back to normal. And everyone lived happily ever after.
